Latest Anthrax Outbreak Threat To County's Dairies

Anthrax has been discovered in the Logtown-Napoleon area of Hancock County.

At a time when everyone working in the anthrax program in Hancock County thought that the situation was completely under control, the disease was contracted by humans as well as livestock, jumped the Pearl River into a new section of Hancock County.

The disease was being completely held South of Highway 90, and for a number of days not an animal had died. County Agent Howard Simmons told the EAGLE yesterday. Everyone was feeling that the situation was under control when the new outbreak started, he added.

It is assumed by the veterinarians that the disease was brought in from the Louisiana swamps by hordes of mosquitoes and possibly flies. Logtown, Napoleon and Gainville are just across the line from one of the hardest hit sections of the five-parish area in Louisiana.

At a meeting Monday morning in the Court House of all persons interested, it was decided to set highway 90 as the southern boundary. Jordan River as the eastern line and Texas Flat Road as the northern. An attempt will be made to vaccinate every animal to Pearl River, in an effort to head off the disease and keep it in the small section near the river where it has broken out.

"We must keep it out of the dairies," County Agent Simmons said, "or some of them will be financially ruined."

Simmons explained that every plan made was to isolate the germ before it reached the dairy section of Hancock County because it will be necessary to cut off the milk of all dairy men should there be one case in any community since the last year's epidemic.

In the event an animal is lost it will be necessary to cut the driveway off up to 21 feet to the county agent.

They would create a serious situation with the dairymen faced to send away milk from the entire area. The feed mill, meat house and feed mill were gone on as usual," Simmons pointed out.

The veterinarians thought that since the disease had been so completely held south of Highway 90, two small new outbreaks could be confined in the same manner.

The section boundary line goes south on the Flat Top Road, takes in part of the area of the western and northeastern part of the county adjoining Louisiana.

Dr. Chodack, State Veterinarian, said that the July Report from the five parishes in the Louisiana anthrax area listed 251 outbreaks with a loss of 12,000 cattle, 279 horses, 108 dogs and 1 sheep.

He and the report was a result of one the spot investigation conducted by the State and Federal Workers assigned to that area, and that in their opinion it was the worst outbreak in twenty years.

Dr. Scott, Chief of the Anthrax Division at the Experiment Station at Beltsville, Md., and his assistant, Dr. Van Ness, will be in Hancock County tomorrow to make a survey of the situation along with Dr. Pate of the US Bureau of Animal Industry and Dr. Chodack, State Veterinarian in Jackson.

The program in Hancock County is under the supervision of Dr. P. D. Nease, who is based in this area by the US Bureau of Animal Industry.

Two Men Overcome By Gas Fumes While Digging Well Sat.

Two men were overcome by gas fumes Saturday afternoon while digging a well near Rocky Hill.

One, Melvin, and his brother-in-law, Joseph K. Roberts of Gulfport, were taken to King's Daughters Hospital for several days for observation following the accident.

Melvin was down in the well when he was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from a gasoline pump which the men were operating. In an attempt to get him to the surface, he slid back when he had been pulled almost to the top of the hole. Roberts, at the time, and both men were overcome.

In addition to the effect from the fumes, Melvin suffered severe rope burns on his neck and stomach when he slipped back during the rescue attempt.

Meeting Being Held Today To Discuss Hospital Possibility

Named Queen of Legion Junior Fishing Rodeo—

Foster L. Fowler, Director of the Mississippi Commission of Hospital Care met with the members of the Board of Supervisors and City Councils, doctors, president of King's Daughters Hospital, and various representatives from local civic organizations and the American Legion at the Courthouse this morning.

The conference is still continuing as we go to press.

Fowler presented information with the fact that Hancock County is high on the State's priority list for State and federal funds for the construction of a new, modern hospital.

He then stressed the fact that such a hospital, if funds are provided, must be sponsored by either the government of the City or County, or some non-profit organization that is highly recommended.

Plans drawn by Shrouds and Mogabgab, architects, for construction of a 30-bed hospital were shown to Fowler by Eugene Mogabgab.

Dr. Ernest Samuel, director of the Board of King's Daughters Hospital, answered many questions asked by Fowler on the present financial set-up of the King's Daughters Hospital. He also inquired about the medical staff and possibilities of securing consultation physicians, radiologists, pathologists and similar specialists.

Dr. Samuel said that at present there were four practicing physicians, two of whom were surgeons, and that he himself was contributing gratis the radiology experience necessary, also that through his entire with Tulane University that consultation men, as well as other needed qualified specialty professional men could be secured for needed services.

One Federal stipulation stressed by Fowler was that in the event the funds for building were provided, no person, regardless of race, could be turned down for hospitalization.

Dr. Samuel briefed the assembly on the drastic need for hospital facilities for colored residents.

It was estimated that approximately $7.50 per bed per day is the minimum on which a fully equipped hospital can be maintained. This was based on information given by Charity Hospital in treatment of charity cases.

An increase in taxes is allowable by the county for the maintenance of a hospital. It was not determined whether or not the city is privileged to additional millage for such maintenance, Fowler suggested a tax attorney be consulted on that point.

All of the talk was informal and primarily to establish the correct and most efficient manner in which to approach the direct appeal for such Federal and State Funds.

Fowler stated that the county could, if the project is granted, work with the King's Daughters organization, and allow them to staff and operate the new structure. However, the direct responsibility would revert back to the sponsor.

It was suggested that Fowler and members of the Board of Supervisors meet with the Board of the King's Daughters Hospital for a detailed resume of all hospital activities here, making possible a more complete picture of the actual need in this county for an enlarged modern hospital.

The fact that we are situated between Gulfport and New Orleans, two large medical centers, was brought before the meeting, and the question of patronage to a local hospital discussed because of the proximity of these cities.

No commitments will be made until a detailed survey of the situation is presented to the Mississippi Hospital Commission.

BAY GIRLS LEAVE FOR CATHOLIC STUDENT CONVENTION AT S. BEND

Seven Bay St. Louis girls from St. Joseph Academy, chaperoned by Mrs. A. C. Mitchell and Sister Jean from SJA left Sunday from New Orleans via chartered buses for an extended sight-seeing tour enroute to the National Convention of Catholic Students Missionary Crusade at Notre Dame, S. Bend, Ind.

A delegation of 411 students from the South will travel together on the tour.

Sister Grace, formerly of the faculty of SJA Bay St. Louis, now in New Orleans, chaperoned the New Orleans delegation. The girls from Bay St. Louis were Pam Crasto, Alice Seafelt, Kinka Korgosien, Sheila Heitzmann, Janelle Egloff, Janelle Mitchell, Helen Genn and Julie Dantagman. They will return Sept. 4.

YOUTH CENTER FUND DRIVE NOW ON

Everyone was reminded this week of the Youth Center Fund Drive.

All donations should be sent to Mr. Richard Shadon, chairman of the drive, or to Mrs. Benne Nubels.

A goal of $12,000 must be reached.

Mothers To March On Polio Fri. Nite

Porch lights will be burning for an hour throughout Hancock County on Friday night, August 27 when the Emergency Mother's March on Polio will be launched as the climax of the 1954 Emergency March of Dimes.

A member of this volunteer army of marching mothers will call at every home where a porch light burns, light welcome and signifies that a home has a contribution to make in the fight against polio.

"Just have your donation ready, turn on your porch light Friday night at 7 p.m., and one of your neighbors who is authorized to call on you will accept your contribution on behalf of your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis," the chairman of the drive said. "For years terrible polio epidemics have swept our country killing and crippling thousands. You know many of them know that polio respects no age or person. Your help is desperately needed."

Polio is striking now across the nation," the chairman continued. "It claims more victims in the first six months of 1954 than had ever been recorded for a like period."

"New cases added to an unprecedented 6,700,000 carrier of the disease from previous years constituted an impossibly heavy burden for an organization attempting at the same time to complete the research conquest of polio."

"Hospital bills can be delayed but not forever. Polio costs cannot be paid off indefinitely."

"And today, March of Dimes Funds are exhausted."

Seminarians Catholic Action Study Week Held At St. Augustine's August 15 - 18

Special Sales Tax Election To Be Held September 4

A special election has been called by the City Council for Sept. 4, for the purpose of approving a one-half per cent sales tax in Bay St. Louis.

Improvements have been planned by the city administration and funds are needed for such progress.

Mayor Scufie told the EAGLE yesterday that "each year the State Legislature has appropriated between $14,000 and $15,000 to Bay St. Louis from pork barrel funds. With this revenue it was possible to progress. However, at the last session of the Legislature, no Pork Barrel appropriations were allocated for municipalities."

An alternative of either levying the sales tax, or an increase in ad valorem taxes would be necessary for the city government to carry on the work of improvements planned for the city, the Mayor said.

It was felt by the City Council that the sales tax would be the fairer and easier tax. Such a tax would bring an estimated $26,000 in direct revenue to the city each year, and would become a permanent income whereby future planning and continued progress would be possible instead of the undetermined and sometimes lacking pork barrel funds.

Three persons were injured Sunday evening about 7:30 p.m. when the car in which they were driving was hit at Bayou LaCroix bridge on the Kiln road.

Jimmy Favre, his wife, and daughter Judy Ann were brought to King's Daughters Hospital by Fahey Ambulance following the wrecking of their car, a 50 Chevrolet which Favre was driving.

Sidney Saucier, colored, Bay St. Louis, owner of a 48 model Ford, was arrested around midnight when he was apprehended by Sheriff's deputies, following his allegedly fleeing the scene of the accident.

He was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of the accident by Sheriff John Egloff. Saucier claims that he was not driving his car at the time of the accident. However, scalp wounds and bruises on his face and head lead the authorities to believe that he is not telling the truth.

Favre received minor leg injuries and was released from the hospital following treatment and examination. Mrs. Favre was more seriously hurt. She suffered lacerations across the left eye, a broken finger on the left hand and possible fracture of the left leg, as well as multiple body bruises.

Judy Ann was treated for fractured ribs, sprained arm and multiple body bruises. Mrs. Favre and Judy are patients at King's Daughters Hospital.

KILN YC BENEFIT FAIR TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

A barbecue and fair will be staged this week end at Kiln for the benefit of the Youth Center.

Festivities will begin Saturday evening at 7 p.m., and Sunday at 12 noon.

In addition to the barbecue, other attractions will include rides, games, home made cake, candy and other articles for sale.

Camper Gigs Hand

Adam Unger Jr., New Orleans, Camp Jordan camper, was treated Sunday night at King's Daughters Hospital where a frog leg was removed from his hand.

The metal spur of the leg broke off in the boy's hand.

He said he did not know just how the accident occurred. He was "just fooling with the leg" and suddenly it stuck through his hand.

Eastland, Colmer And Russell Cop Election Tues.

Chancellor D. M. Russell and Judge Luther W. Maples, both of Gulfport, were elected in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Unofficial returns from 72 of the 76 precincts in the three-county Eighth Chancery District gave Chancellor Russell 9519 votes as compared to 4117 for Cornelius J. Ladner, Bay St. Louis attorney and former state senator.

Judge Maples, seeking his first full term on the Harrison County court bench, defeated Jules Schwab, Biloxi attorney and city judge.

Senator James O. Eastland and Rep. William M. Colmer scored substantial victories in their successful bids for new terms in the United States Congress. Eastland's margin yesterday had swelled to 54,000 votes as ballot tabulations neared completion.

Complete but unofficial returns from 1,730 of the state's 1,820 precincts gave the 47-year old legislator 136,014 votes in his bid for reelection to a third straight, six-year term.

Eastland's only opponent, Lt. Gov. C. E. Carter, polled 81,908 votes and backed the election Tuesday night.

US Rep. William Colmer breezed to his 12th term in the House with 107,000 votes, a 11 advantage over his nearest rival.

2 CARS DEMOLISHED IN HEADON CRASH SUN.

Two cars were totally demolished in a head-on collision Sunday afternoon about 2:30 in the turn of the Old Spanish Trail at Washington St.

Norman de Ben of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, driving a 1950 Mercury and Anthony Birdgett, driving a 1941 Plymouth, were the owners of the cars.

Riding with Birdgett, who received slight knee injuries, were two colored women, both of whom were hospitalized in Gulfport. The extent of injuries received by them was not disclosed. DeBen, alone in his car, escaped injury.

The accident was investigated by Constable Nolan Kingston and Chief Sheriff's Deputy, Sam Peterson.

No charge was made against either driver, who agreed to settle the case out of court.

Frater Fractures Leg In Baseball Game

Frater Fisher Robinson, St. Augustine's Seminary, will be out of the ball game for some time.

He fractured his right leg while sliding into a base last week during a baseball game on the Seminary diamond.

SRO Sign Hung Out Both Nights of Bay Little Theatre Production 'Jane'

BY VICKI HILL

Coincidentally, a brief article in current Sunday news weekly concerning W. Somerset Maugham appeared just at the time the local Little Theatre was basking in the glow of success in its latest play, "Jane," which completed a two night run last Saturday.

"Jane" played to SRO (standing room only) audiences which sent the theatre officials flying back to their original policy of three performances per play instead of the two which they quickly learned are not adequate to accommodate such enthusiastic response.

Not unlike Greenwich Village parties on a Monday night every available commodity was pressed into service in order to seat the overflow. Noted in both audiences were guests from Picayune, New Orleans, Biloxi, a representative number from the Pass, Long Beach and Gulfport and even a few from Hattiesburg here on a vacation at the Reed Hotel.

The production of a play is one form of expressive activity which selfishly shares its laurels with every one involved from the errand boy (if there is one, and sometimes he might be sixty-five years old or more) right up through the line to the director.

"Jane" ran true to form in this respect. Many hands and many minds went to work simultaneously to cooperate in delivering this bright and robust offspring of its theatrical grand parents.

To begin with the setting was one of the most beautifully executed seen by this writer on an amateur stage. Katherine Wilson and A. J. Thomas devoted long unselfish hours to its development. This mother-and-son team pitched into the art work and with tedious perfection simulated a "rough" galle den which even at close inspection seemed authentic. A few found one afternoon laboriously securing this delicate "iron" lace with fine wire.

The setting also boasted touches of Barbara Quigley's artistic ingenuity. In hardly any time at all, Barbara whipped up a trim out of corrugated cardboard, attached it to an old book shelf, which she turned up side-down for a better effect and proceeded to splash pink roses here and there to complete the striking effect. Rare objects of art from the collection of Mrs. Harold Kiehl added bountifully to the shelves against a delft blue background.

With the same selfless endeavor Katie Ripple spent two days applying four coats of paint to the flats. Katie's fetish for daily calisthenics fortified her against the ravages of numerous steps up the ladder and down again.

The settings done chiefly in tan and brown achieved an interesting quality highlighted with instances of scarlet and green. Flower arrangements done in rusts, yellows and mauve and donated by the local flower shop added the final touch of de luxe.

"Jane," which was adapted by S. N. Behrman from an original story by one of our favorites, Maugham, had no action whatsoever to depend on for its success. Therefore it was imperative that the cast be skilled in dialogue delivery and have a sense of clear interpretation. Each player combined in an ultimate manner, in unifying the perfection of the whole.

Through continuous observation this writer noted a complete lack of "artiness" in Barbara Quigley's direction. Her fresh simplicity was concentrated more on assuring an excellent performance than on exercising a display of bookishness or authority. With no previous knowledge of the intricacies of stage craft or dramatic technology, Barbara took over the job and with a natural flair for balance and artistic values came through with a smashing hit.

Scheduled for the next play in the current series the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre announces the production of a long-time favorite, "The Cat and The Canary." This play will be under the direction of Carolyn Keifer. Remembering the success of "Jane," which captured four Oscars, one is assured that this fifth and last production of the 1954 season will be more than satisfying.

Mrs. Keifer has an instinct for special effects, sound and lighting which always adds a distinctive angle to any play she supervises.

Following the fifth play will be the annual "Lagniappe" program which is always extended to the membership as a gesture of appreciation. This program will be handled by Vicki Hill and plans are already near completion for its production. Listed as part of the evening's entertainment is a twenty-member a capella choral group, a short skit and a one-act play.

This is always a gala occasion and one to look forward to.

COUNTRY DOCTOR'S FIGHT MAKES STATE AMONG HEALTHIEST

In a 30-year battle against ignorance, fear and greed, Dr. Felix Joel Underwood has made Mississippi one of the nation's healthiest states. The American Magazine reports in its current issue.

But when the "one-time horse and buggy doctor" became director of the state's Board of Health in 1924, Mississippi ranked with the very lowest in recognition of his tremendous achievement, he recently received the highest honor of his profession—the Albert Lasker Award which included a check for $10,000. Typically, the money is being used to help build a clinic near his home in Jackson.

One by One, The American Magazine continues, Dr. Underwood has tackled and conquered—the major health problems of his state.

Undulant fever, once prevalent in Mississippi, came to Dr. Underwood's attention early in his career. Today, due to his efforts, less than a tenth of one per cent of Mississippians get the disease.

As soon as diphtheria vaccine became available, he led a campaign to immunize every child in Mississippi. With a law requiring every mid-wife to carry a state permit renewable annually, Dr. Underwood has also brought maternal deaths from 74 per 1000 in live births to 1.8. "This," he says, "has been the most gratifying achievement of my service."

With equal energy and success, Dr. Underwood has attacked other major state health problems like typhoid, malaria, venereal disease and tuberculosis.

To solve the state's pressing shortage of private practitioners in rural areas, a qualified Mississippiian can obtain a state loan to pursue his medical studies and in return must spend at least two years in rural general practice.

Under this plan, as Dr. Underwood says, "No longer does a country doctor have to do the work of ten men as he did in my day."

ROXIE—Approximately 450 people gathered here Wednesday for ceremonies marking the start of rural telephone service over new facilities just completed by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The celebration which was held at the Roxie Consolidated School was sponsored by the Lion's Club and included addresses by men and women of prominence in the community and the State. Musical entertainment was furnished by the Case String Band of Fayetteville and at the conclusion of the formal program the big crowd was treated to a delicious barbecue luncheon provided by the Lion's Club.

The principal address was by J. M. Phillips of Jackson, State Manager for Southern Bell, who told an entertaining story of the development of communication from smoke signals of the aborigines to today's coaxial cable and microwave towers, carriers of television programs and simultaneous telephone conversations running into the thousands.

"We always feel like celebrating when we complete another rural telephone project," Mr. Phillips said, "It's a great day for everyone, especially when a rural dial switching unit is part of the facilities to be placed in service."

These rural dial switching units, he continued, "just fit the conditions of widely scattered population such as we find in many parts of our State, because they enable us to serve more rural homes and business houses at a cost that the telephone company and our customers can afford."

"The rural dial switching unit we are placing in service here today is the 24th to be installed in Mississippi since December, 1949," Mr. Phillips concluded, "and no one of them are scheduled for other points in the State as we continue communication will help farmers and merchants to keep in touch with each other and their markets as well."

Master of Ceremonies for the affair was R. N. Scott, Roxie drug store owner and member of the Franklin County Board of Supervisors. The Reverend R. J. Gilbert, Pastor of the Roxie Methodist Church, read the invocation and Mayor H. E. McCall delivered the address of welcome. The response was given by W. E. Boggan, County Superintendent of Education, District Governor of the Lion's Club, stated that in his opinion the service rendered by the telephone company in peace and war exceeded by far any profit the company and others along with a number of customers between Fayetteville and the Jefferson County line. A few of these have been served previously from Fayetteville.

Mr. Sargent stated that the new rural dial switching unit here will be connected by trunk lines to the Fayetteville exchange and that all of the new telephones will be considered a part of that exchange. These customers may make any number of calls to any other local customer whose telephone is connected to this Fayetteville exchange without additional charge above their regular monthly rate for service.

The brief remarks by Mrs. Clifford Whitehead and R. B. Hattom, both of Roxie, were an unusual feature of the program. Mrs. Whitehead spoke interestingly of the way the new telephones would save time and effort for the church women, club members and home makers of the community, while Mr. Hattom foretold how faster and other who spoke briefly were E. K. Lumpkin, of Jackson, Southern Bell District Manager; Mrs. Bryant L. Johnson of Roxie, and Public Service Commissioner L. S. (Ike) Sanford.

H. G. Turner, Southern Bell District Manager in Mississippi at present, attended the dedication along with E. C. Weems, of Jackson, the company's Chief Engineer in the State and L. E. Shawson, Mississippi Rural Development Supervisor for Southern Bell.

Concluding feature of the program was the first long distance conversation over the new facilities between Lion's Club President Erle Breeden and J. G. Bradbury, Executive Vice-President of Southern Bell in Atlanta.

The entire program was tape recorded and broadcast between 3 and 4 o'clock the same afternoon by Natchez Radio Station WNTS and WNAH.

THIS WEEK
in Farm Bureau

An improved ACP program for 1955 will make $6,000,000 available to farmers in Mississippi for soil and water conservation practices, according to Boswell Stevens, president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

Farm Bureau was one of the agricultural organizations consulted in the planning of the new State ASC program, which initiates several changes that greatly improve it over the 1953-54 program.

Preliminary details of the program indicate that it will be more flexible and more easily adapted to local needs and conditions, Mr. Stevens said.

Most of the changes relate to the practices of establishing vegetative cover on farmland to protect it from erosion and to conserve water. These crops include perennial plants which protect the land for more than one year, and annual cover crops which either reseed themselves or have to be reseeded.

The forestry and earth-moving practices, such as building ponds, will remain substantially the same as in the last several years. The perennial cover practice will be expanded to more land than was eligible last year.

First is land that will permanently be in cover and as in 1954 diverted acres will be eligible for this practice. Second is rotation of crops which in 1954 was limited to 35 per cent of cropland on the farm, but in 1955 will be left to the county ASC committee.

Third is improving existing permanent cover now used for hay or pasture and in 1955 it will be extended to make possible liming or fertilizing without seeding. It covers where seed or plants are already established. Instead of fixed requirements a minimum and maximum on seed and minerals will be allowed with any farm agency to determine the most effective use. Fertilizer requirements will be in minimum units of plant food rather than in formula as in 1954.

Three annual cover crop practices will be available where there was only one, winter cover crops available in 1954. This will be continued on many eligible farms. Increased acreage is limited to what was grown on the farm for the last three years. Grazing oats will be added as an eligible crop this year. Annual winter and summer cover crops will not be eligible if harvested for hay, silage, seed or grain.

In 1954 government help will be available in applying fertilizers to winter and summer cover crops. One of the new annual cover crop practices allows growing a summer cover crop, including annual lespedeza, Sudan grass and millet. The second new annual cover crop practice is for maintaining a cover throughout the 1955 crop year on land shifted from crop production to cover crops. This mainly would be planting both winter and summer cover crops on the same land in acreage taken out of cotton. Program assistance would go to each along with government cost-sharing. A wide range of choice is given the farmer under this practice.

Improvements will be made in the operating plan for 1955 for more prompt action by county committees on requests for approvals. Sign-up periods will probably be in December and January.

WAVELAND
WANDERINGS

BY GEORGETTE HALL

The youngsters are busy draining each day that is left for what it has to offer in the way of leisure and enjoyment. School days are just around the corner. The Waveland School opens as do most of the schools in the county on September 7, which is the day after Labor Day.

The same efficient faculty will be in charge of the school for another year, headed by Miss Mary Perkins, principal. Other staff members are Mrs. Effie Mazarakis and Miss Cecile and Mary Turcotte.

All of the teachers have attended summer school, and Miss Cecile Turcotte was awarded her degree from Mississippi Southern last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stelz and daughter, Georgette, have returned from their vacation which they enjoyed in Pensacola, Fla. They matured to the resort and had a pleasant stay.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mocklin Jr. of Sandy St. have received word from their son who is stationed in Korea. Along with young Mocklin's letter came a letter from a native Korean house boy. According to the Mocklins, the letter is one of greeting, but since it is written in the native language, no one has been able to translate it so far.

The Mocklins have suggested that since this column is widely read, someone might be able to translate it, or know of someone who could. Its contents might prove very interesting. If you'd like to help in translation, get in touch with the Mocklin family at 521, or call this reporter at 479-J.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Layman and children of Franklinton, La., are enjoying their vacation in the beach home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hava.

Mrs. Lee O'Neal and daughter, Mary Margaret of Jasper, Indiana, have been guests for the last few weeks of Lander Nease of Kilm and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mazarakis of Waveland. Mr. Nease is Mrs. O'Neal's brother.

TIGERS SHORT ON RESERVE POWER BUT LONG ON DETERMINATION

The Bay High Tigers are now in their second of four weeks of pre-season football training.

Coach Lance Lumpkin said the boys were "looking mighty fine" and are a hard working group.

He expressed the opinion that the team has a lot of determination that should really carry them far this season.

The Tigers, however, are very low on reserve power.

The Tigers spent the last week on offense training, line plays and blocking.

This week emphasis is on signal drills and control work in order to prepare them for their opening game with Nicholls High in New Orleans Sept. 17.

Last year Coach Lumpkin twice got to see Nicholls' varsity as Slidell had two scrimmage contests with the New Orleans team. Both times Slidell overpowered Nicholls.

Nicholls will outweigh the Bay boys and also will outweigh them in experience.

Youth Center Nine To Host Pass Scouts At Kiln Sunday

The Kiln Youth Center will host the Pass Christian Sea Scouts this Sunday in a baseball tilt beginning at 2:00 at the Youth Center field.

Russell Mitchell will hurl for the host and J. C. Neuse will handle mound duties for the Sea Scouts.

The Youth Center split a pair of games over the last two weeks. Sunday they dropped a 13-10 decision to the Pass Christian Seniors.

The preceding Sunday they topped the Pass Seniors with a no-hitter until the game was called in the sixth.

Gradd Gex son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gex Sr. left Sunday for a two-week visit with friends in Los Angeles, Calif.

Rocks Launch Practice With 14 Lettermen

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws opened their fall football training Monday with 14 boys reporting.

Coach Farley Day announced that he would have the squad out twice daily to prepare them for their ten-game schedule. Day will be assisted by Brother Phillip and Herb Adam.

Among the large group reporting are 14 lettermen: Maurice Artigues, Leon Fazio, Ed Hargrove, Berch Wilbert, Kenny Artigues, Walter Gex, Frank Hille, Louis Ladner, Douglas Talbot, Billy Rhodes, Woody Santa Cruz, Howard Whitman, Pat Mooney and Robert Pfeiffer.

The only change in this year's schedule for Stanislaus is Our Lady of Victory filling the date vacated by McDonough High of New Orleans.

By order of the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission all deer hunters must have a deer tag, whether they are required to buy a license or not. Wade Creekmore, director of the commission, said today.

By E. C. Quinn, president, Chrysler Division, under 16 years of age, females and persons hunting on their own land are not required to have a license. But Creekmore called attention to the commission's regulation of April 13, 1954, which requires anyone killing a deer to affix the official deer tag to the carcass immediately. If the tag is not taken up by a commission representative it must be mailed to the director within five days after the kill.

Persons exempt from the purchase of a hunting license should write in to the Game and Fish Commission, Box 451, for deer tag application blank.

Data obtained by the commission through the forms which are part of the deer tags will give the most accurate information so far as Mississippi's deer herd and annual kill.

QUARANTINE STATIONS TO PREVENT PINK BOLLWORM

Three quarantine stations to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm to Mississippi will begin operation at Natchez, Vicksburg, and Graceland before September 1, according to Dr. Ross E. Hutchins, State entomologist.

These stations will operate 24 hours a day. All traffic coming into Mississippi across the three river bridges will be stopped and searched to prevent the entry of pink boll worms hiding in cottonseed, cotton bolls, picking sacks, mechanical cotton pickers, guineas, mechanical cotton pickers and other such materials.

ASC ELECTION MEETINGS TO BE HELD SEPT. 4

Community ASC election meetings will be held in each of Hancock County's 6 farm communities on Saturday, September 4 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, chairman of the ASC committee announced today.

At these meetings, farmers in each community will vote for three farmers to serve on the community committee, one of whom will be a delegate to the county convention to elect the county ASC committee for 1954.

Voting will be by secret ballot. In general, any farmer is eligible to vote if he as owner, operator, tenant or shareholder is participating or carrying out practices in accord with programs administered by the county ASC committee.

Chairman Lee emphasized that the effectiveness of Agricultural Conservation Program operations and of price support and marketing programs will depend a great deal on the community committeemen who are elected.

As the chairman sees it, "If we are to have enough food and fiber in the years ahead, it will have to come largely from our present cropland. That means we must protect it so that it will keep on producing. That is why we have the Agricultural Conservation Program, and that is why we need the best possible farmer - committee leadership. The effort must be successful or there will be less food on the Nation's tables in the years ahead."

The chairman urges farmers in each community in Hancock County to look over the field carefully and make sure that farmers are elected who are best qualified and who will have the time to devote to this job.

According to the chairman, wide publicity will be given the community elections this year urging every farmer to go to the polls on Saturday, Sept. 4 between 8 a.m. and 12 noon and vote for the men of his choice.

Notices of the election will be posted in each community and farmers will be notified by letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Heitzmann will visit in California for the next two weeks. They left Bay St. Louis Sunday.

What's Elbow Grease?

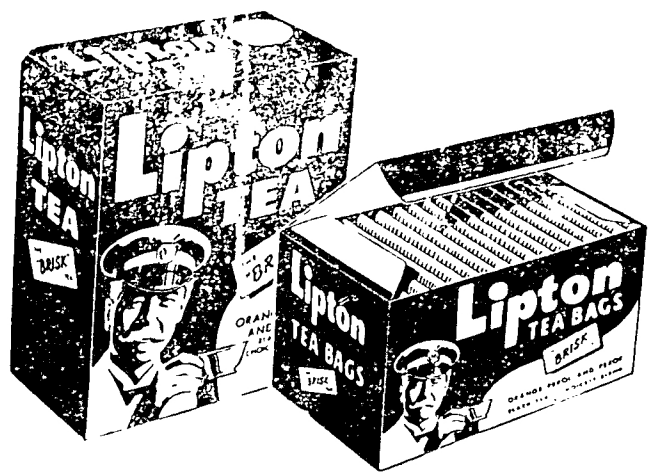

Your youngster might ask. Kids today don't hear so much about it... not since electricity.

In just one lifetime, electricity has taken most of the elbow grease out of many tedious jobs—washing and ironing your clothes, cleaning your house, preparing and preserving your food. Electric service is at your finger tips all the time, ready to help with just about every household chore—for mere pennies a day.

The men and women in your electric company are always working to make electricity even more useful for more jobs. They've made it just about the biggest bargain in your family budget.
